

EquaSion Presents

ART 4 HEART

YOUTH ARTS COMPETITION

What Does Justice Mean To You?

SUBMIT BY NOVEMBER 7, 2020
WWW.EQUASION.ORG/YOUTH-ARTS-CONTEST

ABOUT THE CONTEST

What Does Justice Mean To You?

All interested youth are invited to submit any form of art to answer the question:

"What does justice mean to you?"

Please submit any form of art:

- Visual Art (jpg, jpeg, png)
- Music (mp3, mp4)
- Written Expression (pdf)
- Performance (mov, wmv, mp4)

Limit videos to maximum of 3 minutes.

The competition is divided by grades:

- PK & Under
- K-4
- 5-8
- 9-12

You may also submit as a family.

Digital submissions only, accepted through November 7, 2020.

Submission form: www.equasion.org/youth-arts-contest

A panel of judges will pick winners for each grade category and winners will receive prizes. Prizes may include games, books, gift cards, and tickets to local sites. Winners will be announced on November 15, 2020 via special programming on Zoom.

Winners will also get a chance to be featured on EquaSion's social media, and all submissions will be celebrated and shared online to spread hope & positivity in our community.

For more information or questions, email Sharon Spiegel at info@equasion.org

EquaSion is a non-partisan civic organization founded upon interfaith dialogue that works to develop educational programs to foster greater understanding, respect, compassion, inclusion, and engagement for all people in Cincinnati and beyond. EquaSion utilizes a variety of means including the arts to achieve its mission and values the voice, participation and leadership of our young people.

For more information, visit www.equasion.org

